DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 3, line 2; the word "latices" is misspelled.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 19-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
4. The expressions "terpene-phenolic derivate", "hydrogenated rosin derivative" and rosin ester derivative" render the claims indefinite. There are no examples of said derivatives in the specification and one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made would not know what said derivatives are and of all the derivatives, which ones are usable in the invention. Whether similar claims have been allowed to others is immaterial. See In re Giolito 188 USPQ 645 (CCPA 1976).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
6. Claims 19-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Crossland et al. 3,917,607, Sambasivam et al. 6,232,391 or Paul 6,448,303, in view of

Art Unit: 1714

Kitamura et al. 5,095,059, Kueppers 5,939,483, Quinn et al. 6,582,829 or Kroll et al. 6,926,959, further in view of Sutter et al. 5,120,585.

7. The primary and secondary references have been discussed already. The primary references disclose all the required ingredients with the claimed concentrations. The secondary references are cited to show the viscosity of similar formulations and the softening points of the claimed tackifiers. While not all the claimed properties are shown in the cited references, when there is sound basis that the products of the applicants and the prior art are the same, applicants have the burden of showing that they are not. See In re Spada 15 USPQ2d 1655, 1658 (Fed. Cir. 1990). Since the PTO cannot conduct tests, so it is appropriate to shift the burden to applicants to do so. See In re Best 195 USPQ 430, 433-434 (CCPA 1977). A prior art reference may anticipate or make obvious without disclosing a feature of the claimed invention if that missing characteristic is necessarily present or inherent in the reference. In other words all properties are inherent in the composition. Sutter et al. teach a package including a support member, having an oleophobic and hydrophobic coating, adhesively bonded to form a packet. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art; at the time the invention was made, to use the adhesives of the primary references, as modified by the secondary references, to bond the package, since Kitamura et al. and Kueppers disclose the fact that SEBS based hot melt adhesives are uniquely suited to bond hard to adhere surfaces.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
